

ANDY COMMUNICATES WITH FELLOW
MARS EXPERIENCER MICHAEL RELFE

In February 2010, Andrew D. Basiago, president of the Mars Anomaly Research Society (MARS), exchanged e-mails with Michael Relfe, author of The Mars Records, which detail his 20-year odyssey on Mars. According to Relfe, he teleported to Mars at age 20, worked there from 1980 to 2000, and then was time traveled back in time 20 years to conceal his activities on behalf of the secret Mars colony. Relfe believes that mind control was used to hide his Mars experiences from his conscious mind. He is an advocate of the proposition that Mars experiencers should undergo a clearing process involving bio-feedback that he has developed to bring "black" project activity on the Red Planet into conscious focus.

Michael Relfe

Hi Andrew,

Re: Mars article

You have a very nice website.

Your discovery of life on Mars in 2008 is interesting.

However, the U.S. military has owned that planet for over 40 years.

Some detailed information is available in the four free books at www.themarsrecords.com.

You should consider undergoing similar biofeedback clearing procedures yourself.

After 50 or 100 hours, it would be very interesting to see what they have really done to you.

All the best,

Sincerely,

Michael Relfe
www.metatech.org

Andy communicates with Fellow Mars Experiencer, page 2

Andrew D. Basiago

Dear Michael,

My discovery of life on Mars encompasses the fact that Mars has a biosphere and is the site of many ancient artifacts.

It is an ongoing research project in natural history that is identifying humanoid beings, animal species, carved statues, and built structures on the surface of Mars.

It then uses these findings to make a case for Mars being protected from visitation, exploration, habitation and colonization by human beings from Earth, including US personnel presently on Mars, via international treaty.

It does not constitute a proof that human beings from Earth have not yet been to Mars – only that indigenous life forms and archaeological resources exist there in abundance. It then presents photographs and text describing what those life forms and ancient artifacts are.

Indeed, in the realm not of natural history but of deep politics, I, like you, am a Mars experiencer. I have been narrating my Mars experiences in a growing body of radio interviews.

I twice teleported to Mars in 1981 from a "jump room" at a CIA facility in El Segundo, California.

I was trained for these missions by a CIA officer named Courtney M. Hunt, whose identity as a CIA officer has been verified by intelligence community ethicist Dr. Jean Maria Arrigo and career Army security attaché Captain Ernest Garcia, a veteran of many classified projects.

I have also questioned Hunt's ex-wives B.J. Hunt and Linda Hunt and his son Robert Hunt to establish that Mr. Hunt was what he said he was, namely, a career CIA officer, and that, therefore, my memories of visiting Mars through his facilitation were the result of bona fide interactions with a CIA employee.

My first trip to Mars via teleportation was made in July 1981 by myself. The "jump room" arrived at an underground location and I walked up a concrete stairwell to reach the surface. I walked through the eye sockets of a skull on the surface, stepped out onto the surface, was met by three human beings from Earth, and stood around for about an hour, before I was told that I could leave and teleport back to Earth. The atmosphere was breathable but thin, the sky a very pale blue.

Andy communicates with Fellow Mars Experimenter, page 3

My second trip to Mars via teleportation was made in August 1981 in the company of Mr. Hunt. We used the same "jump room" at the CIA facility in El Segundo to reach Mars and arrived at the same underground location. When we walked up the stairs and stepped out onto the surface, we walked around on the surface for three or four hours. We visited an old stone house (like one might find in rural Arizona) and interacted with a colonist from Earth.

I have narrated these two trips extensively now on radio. They are also contained in a 390-minute interview entitled "A Conversation with Andrew D. Basiago" that was produced by Jessica Schab that has been posted on the Internet at www.youtube.com.

So, make no mistake, my position is two-fold. First, I am showing in my research papers published by MARS that Mars is inhabited. Second, I have joined the growing cadre of individuals who are disclosing their Mars experiences so that humanity can know not just that Mars is inhabited but that human beings from Earth are among the life forms that inhabit Mars.

I affirm evidence like the photograph revealed by Bob Dean at the European Exopolitics Summit in July 2009, which shows an aerial view of a base on Mars.

I would add that my account also corroborates your account. While I was not time traveled back to the past after working on Mars for 20 years, as you describe, I did reach Mars via a form of quantum access, a teleportation-based "jump room" of the kind that has been described by other Mars experiencers.

In the future, I would like to interview you about your Mars experiences for "The Annals of MARS." Meanwhile, I would like to post a link at www.projectmars.net giving readers the opportunity to download your four free e-books.

In closing, let me both thank you for writing to me about this vital subject and for revealing your concern about the effects of my interaction with the US government on me.

Let me say that after now spending 10 years investigating my childhood experiences in Project Pegasus, which culminated in my several trips to Mars in 1981, I am quite "clear" about the nature of my experiences on behalf of the US government and am waging a truth campaign to communicate them to others.

I hope that we can be allies in the cause of enabling the people of Planet Earth to possess the true natural history of their solar system, which includes the fact that human beings from this planet are already present on Planet Mars.

Sincerely,

Andrew D. Basiago
www.projectmars.net

Andy communicates with Fellow Mars Experimenter, page 4

Andrew D. Basiago

Dear Michael,

By the way, I find your comment "see what they have really done to you" very presumptuous and, frankly, offensive.

I am familiar with your story and the fact that it includes the unhappy element of you being brainwashed to conceal the 20 years of missing time that you spent working on Mars.

Mine, however, is not a case of mind control or recovered memory.

While brainwashing was used to try to make me forget what I experienced in Project Pegasus when I was a child, I successfully resisted it and never forgot or repressed what happened to me in the program.

I also never forgot about going to Mars in 1981. Rather, I decided to not talk about my trips up there for fear nobody would believe me and out of concern there might be retaliation against me if I did speak about them. As my truth campaign unfolded, I decided that I should come forward and tell the whole truth with a view to the notion that full disclosure is the only true disclosure there is.

I think you project your project experiences on to others. In fact, my Mars experience was very minimal – two brief trips up there when I was 19 years old. By contrast, you spent 20 years up there and were subjected to substantial mind control.

While your heroic experiences and equally heroic journey back to psychical integration cause me to admire you greatly, I would dissuade you from an overly broad application of your facts wherein you make of your heterodoxy other experiencers' orthodoxy.

I know the reality of what I experienced on Mars was far less engrossing than what you experienced there and hence it is not fair or accurate to project your project experiences onto mine.

Sincerely,

Andrew D. Basiago
www.projectmars.net

Andy communicates with Fellow Mars Experiencer, page 5

Michael Relfe

Hi Andrew,

Thank you for your two letters. It is difficult to begin communication with someone that I have already offended, however, I will try!

Your term “brainwashing” as applied to those involved with military/alien interaction is rather broad and non-specific. In my experience, a more accurate description would be “memory blocking security protocols.” I refer to those procedures in that way as there are many negative stereotypes associated with the term “brainwashing” (change in personality, etc.).

You find my assumption that you have involvement with these groups that you are not aware of to be “presumptuous.” That is possibly true. However, please consider it from my position for a moment.

From our over 14 years of experience, these are our assumptions. Humans are a psychic species. Human metaphysical abilities are active or inactive and are concentrated in certain family lines. The military/alien complex expends large amounts of resources locating humans with active abilities. Various groups inside this complex claim “ownership” of humans with metaphysical abilities. These groups utilize these humans, without their knowledge or consent, for implementation of various projects.

So, from my standpoint, whenever I see anyone describe involvement with military black projects, UFO’s, missing time, etc, assuming that what they are describing was not fabricated, I conclude that there is a very high probability that what they remember is only “the tip of the iceberg” and that there is, in fact, more to the story than they remember.

I conclude that once a target is acquired, that target would not be ignored or set free. They would be kept in reserve for future projects. I may be in error, however, that is my conclusion.

For you personally:

As a kinesiologist, my wife Stephanie is capable of doing “remote kinesiology” by using me as a surrogate for a person. These are not “psychic readings” or anything of that sort, nor do we advertise this fact. It is not invasive and will not function if God does not allow it. And of course it will never be shared with anyone.

Andy communicates with Fellow Mars Experiencer, page 6

As part of your data collection, we thought you might be interested in what she found for you. There are no guaranties; however, I have found in the last 12 years that Stephanie's remote muscle testing has been shown to be remarkably accurate.

We get that you are a P13. That means someone with 13 metaphysical abilities. I am also a P13. Stephanie is a P17. The highest I have ever personally met is a P23. We know a P31 by distance kinesiology. This does not in any way indicate any "horsepower" rating of any ability.

We get that your abilities are: (Found in this order)

1. Empath
2. Remote viewer
3. Healer
4. Seer of the future (using a machine)
5. Fixer of equipment (that is impossible to fix)
6. Analyzer of problems holographically
7. Sender of messages through time (using a machine)
6. Finder of new universes
7. Inventor of new technology (tests as the most rare/valuable ability)
8. Not identified
9. Not identified
10. Not identified
11. Not identified
12. Not identified
13. Not identified

Total Time Away from Earth – 20 years (many different places/projects)

Time Traveled – Total Times – 20 times

Note: Between 7 and 8, there was a few minutes delay. Original testing was that #7 was the last one we had a name for so we almost stopped. Then, Stephanie checked for "interference." Three Reptilian remote viewers were blocking us from knowing any more. I dealt with them. We then found names for #8 and #9. 10 thru 13 we were not able to identify. This may be because they are beyond our knowledge.

So, if this is all too ridiculous, please ignore it. Otherwise, it looks like you are much more important than you imagine and you might be a candidate for "The Mars Records – Book 5."

Thank you for your courage and bravery in publishing your project and for putting yourself on the line, especially with your credentials. We can only imagine the pressure that you are under.

Sincerely,

Michael Relfe
www.metatech.org