

NEW DISCOVERY – PAUL GOODWIN – THE HUMANOID AND THE DEER

Andrew D. Basiago Friday, July 9, 2010 at 1:23 pm

Paul,

This is a very significant discovery given its clarity and content. I see a Martian humanoid of some kind, dressed in a black kaftan, holding a weapon on a deer-like creature standing on two legs. The "deer" has antlers or large antennae and is holding its arms out defensively. A number of factors convince me that this is a statue. These include the lack of symmetry in the face of the humanoid, the irregular contours of his clothing, and the preposterous scenario depicted, which is consistent with the macabre nature of so much of Martian art. Having said that, I think we should leave open the possibility that these are life forms and that you have found "smoking gun" evidence of the race war on Mars that Emily Cragg says that she has documented. Yes, interesting how this incredible image silenced "the rock brigade." Hopefully, now the skeptics are coming to see that the only rocks in our pictures are the rocks in their heads!

Andy

A humanoid trains a weapon on a deer

The humanoid close-up

The deer close-up